Matters Quieter At Warsaw.

JEWES BEING ARRESTED IN SWARMS

Lodz Has Been A Veritable Shambles For Several Days
Past--Troops Now In Control Of The Situation.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]

Berlin, June 28.—The Morgen Post states that the Czar has banished Father John of Kronstadt to a monastery located on a desolate point of the White sea coast, for his alleged immortality and irregularities.

Wholesale Arrests

Warsaw, June 28.—The police are making wholesale arrests of Jews for alleged participation in the riots. All but sixteen factories have resumed operations this morning. The miners in all the collieries of the Donbrowa district have gone on a strike.

Many Conflicts

Odessa, June 28.—The conflicts between the people and police have occurred at several points. Two police officials were wounded. An unknown striker threw a bomb into the cathedral last night, killing a police inspector.

Sailors Strike

The crew of the battleship Kniaz Potemakin Tavrishesky of the Black sea fleet mutinied because of the harsh treatment and murdered their officers. The mutineers threaten to bombard the town. The battleship is now cruising at sea, the crew fearing to land and the authorities fearing bloodshed if an attempt is made to board the vessel.

Slaughter at Lodz.

There was another encounter Tuesday afternoon, and a number of attacks were made on individual policemen.

There is little news from Poland, but copies of the Lodz Gazette are eagerly read. A telegram to the official agency gives the number of killed and those who died of their wounds on Friday as 164. It adds that others were killed on Saturday and Sunday and that the complete number of victims cannot be stated definitely. Other accounts give a total estimate of 500 dead at Lodz.

Prince Urusoff, governor of Tver, central Russia, has been relieved of his post at his own request.

Socialists Are Shot Down.

Warsaw, June 28.—A secret meeting of 200 socialists in the forest of Zuerz, near Lodz, was surprised by Cossacks at noon Tuesday. Eighteen of the socialists were wounded and 180 arrested.

The authorities received information that the meeting was being held and sent a squadron of Cossacks, who surrounded the forest and fired into the socialists, taking them entirely unaware. The wounded were taken to the hospitals at Lodz, and those arrested were sent to the prison at Lenzysa, twenty miles distant.

The authorities are making an insistent search for the socialist leaders. In the course of the search Tuesday a number of persons were killed or wounded.

The day passed quietly here. Polish papers unanimously condemn the strikes and their resultant disturbances, which they say can only lead to bloodshed and distress.

Jews Fill the Prisons.

All the prisons are full to overflowing, no less than 672 persons, mostly Jews, having been arrested. It is expected that a state of siege will be proclaimed, as great riots are anticipated during the mobilization.

The laborers on thirty-two beet root plantations in the government of Poldia have struck, and it is feared the harvest will be lost.

The peasants in the government of Kovno are forcefully occupying pasture and other lands of the proprietors of estates.

Estates Are Sacked.

Karkoff, Russia, June 28.—Troops were dispatched from here to three adjoining districts, where the peasants are sacking estates and burning buildings.

Landlords Are Fleeing.

Elizabethgrad, June 28.—On account of the threatening nature of the agrarian movement in the adjoining districts the governor of Kherson, M. Lewaschew, has arrived here and Cossacks have been summoned. Many landlords are fleeing from their estates into the city.

NEW PLANS MADE BY THE NORMAL BOARD

Session at Madison of Much Interest
to the Educators Throughout the State.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., June 28.—The state board of normal school regents is this afternoon grappling with the question of salaries for teachers in the seven normal schools of the state. The teachers have asked for increases of salary so generally that the board is confronted practically with the proposition of whether or not a raise can be granted to the entire force. The teachers represent that the cost of living has greatly increased, that their expenses have multiplied, that salaries in other fields of livelihood have advanced, that the tendency in the state university has been to increase compensation of instructors and that the normal teachers are entitled to the same consideration. It appears that the normal regents are inclined to do something for the teachers, but the problem is how to stretch the money available over the many urgent calls for additional expenses. The board yesterday elected William Kittle of Oconomowoc, a good administration man, as secretary of the board in place of Major S. S. Rockwood, who is dying of paralysis at his home in Portage.

The meeting is in the nature of a conference pure and simple, to discuss questions which have arisen in connection with attempted overhead writing, especially by non-resident brokers who attempt to place the whole or a part of the line at cut rates and grow out of a movement inaugurated at the midwinter conference of the national association at Pittsburgh, when a special committee was appointed to secure, if possible, a meeting with companies on the question outlined.

Their Oarsmen.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 28.—Confidence in the ability of the oarsmen from the universities of Columbia, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania and Cornell to give a good account of themselves in the great intercollegiate regatta on the Hudson is expressed by each of the various captains. Thousands of people and college enthusiasts are here to witness the great contest this afternoon between the varsity, the four-oared and eight-oared crews. Many of those witnessing today's racing contests will go direct to New London for the Harvard-Yale regatta tomorrow.

MADISON PREPARES TO SEND A CROWD

Janesville's Fourth of July Celebration Will Be Well Attended.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., June 28.—Many Madison people will celebrate the Fourth of July in Janesville and will attend the performance of the celebrated Nonesuch Brothers' circus. The agents of the two railroads running from Madison to Janesville are trying to ascertain the extent of the Madison-Janesville traffic for the holiday so that they can report to headquarters on the number of extra passenger coaches that will be needed to take the crowds from the Capitol city. Agent John C. Pfen of the St. Paul road said that a special train would be necessary, perhaps not so much for the people from Madison as for those from Edgerton and Stoughton. A counter attraction in Madison is the Barnum and Bailey circus, but in spite of this the good time assured in the Bower city is a subject of conversation when the frequent question, "Where are you going to spend the Fourth?" is asked. Madison never celebrates the Fourth, but the people here are nevertheless sufficiently American to desire the opportunity of celebrating the national birthday anniversary in proper American style and no better opportunity, it is generally established here, is offered any city in Wisconsin than that afforded by the people of Janesville.

CIVIL WAR IS A POSSIBILITY

Sweden Becoming Angry At Norway's Attitude May Force A Conflict Yet.

REFER A BILL FOR SETTLEMENT

War Party Of Sweden Would Force An Issue With The Norwegians That Might Result In Bloodshed And War.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]

Stockholm, June 28.—Amid fiery speeches, during which the cry of treason to the king was raised, the riksdag Tuesday elected special senate and house committees, to which was referred the government bill looking for a settlement with Norway. Speakers denounced the plans of the king and cabinet, and one declared that Oscar had placed not only one but two thrones in jeopardy.

The senate committee consists of nine anti-government and three pro-government members, and the house committee of five pro-government, five anti-government, and two independent members.

Criticize Swedish Cabinet.

The debates on the remission of the bill brought out fiery speeches, in which the action of the Norwegian storting was condemned and the Swedish cabinet severely criticised.

The tenor of the speeches throughout the debate in both houses leaves the impression that the majority of the speakers were of the opinion that a peaceful solution of the difficulty was extremely improbable.

In the senate, Judge C. A. Berg, who initiated the debate, said:

"We must not use force to sustain the union, which is valueless to us under existing conditions, but the riksdag does not recognize the illegal and revolutionary breach of the union; and does not recognize Norway as a sovereign state. Sweden's representatives must consider Sweden's safety, and this can only be done through a cabinet having the full confidence of the riksdag."

Heir Hammarstjorn said that the action of the Norwegian storting was revolutionary, but it had raised such a storm of indignation in Sweden that all parties had rallied to the support of King Oscar, assuring him that Sweden would remain faithful, even though Norway had proved false.

Sweden Must Make Conditions.

Sweden, he said, had received a blow in the face which had awakened the people from their lethargy, and they demanded different action from that taken by the cabinet. The people were disappointed at the cabinet's wavering proposals. The bill, he said, was much too moderate, and should have strenuously censured the storting. It was unworthy of Sweden to commence negotiations with revolutionists, and parliament and the cabinet should propose conditions which Sweden would accept, telling Norway that as she had broken away from the union Sweden would be willing to separate, but that Norway must agree to Sweden's conditions. If Norway did not accept, then Sweden should enforce her conditions by war.

The speaker said he preferred war to the sacrifice of Sweden's honor, and if Sweden was not prepared to enforce her conditions then she deserved the contempt of all Europe. Sweden's conditions should be moderate, but once they were offered they must stand.

In conclusion Herr Hammarstjorn said that the cabinet and the parliament must understand each other, and the cabinet's proposal to open negotiations with Norway was not acceptable to the people of Sweden.

JANESVILLE BOY IS TO DECIDE THE CASE

Judge Stevens of Dane County, Sitting in the Railroad Cases
at Madison.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, June 28.—The arguments on the railroad back-tax cases are to be completed before Circuit Judge E. Ray Stevens today and the case of the Wisconsin Central, which road declined to join in the stipulation of facts with the others, will be taken up. The attorneys for the roads contend that while the corporations did not report all the gross earnings to the state commissioner for the purposes of taxation, that in fact they reported earnings on interstate business, upon which, according to decisions of high courts, they cannot be taxed by the state, so that they paid all and more than their just share of taxes under a legal application of the license fee taxation statute. Judge Stevens will take the matter under advisement and a decision is not expected for at least a week. Judge Stevens is a former Janesville boy. He graduated from the Janesville high school, completed the university academic and law course, practiced law in Madison, was a leading La Follette member of the legislature in 1901 and was appointed circuit judge by the governor when R. G. Siebeck was elevated to the supreme bench upon the death of Justice C. V. Bardeen.

ROOSEVELT AGAIN A COLLEGE MAN TODAY

Is Principal One at Twenty-Fifth Anniversary Exercises of Illustrious Harvard Class.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Cambridge, Mass., June 2.—Theodore Roosevelt, the president was lost in Theodore Roosevelt, the college man at the class-day exercises of Harvard University today. Not in the history of the great institution has there been a more distinguished gathering on the great campus. Interest in the class day exercises were eclipsed in the celebration of the twenty-first anniversary of the graduation class of which President Roosevelt is a member. Early this morning Governor Douglas, and members of his staff called at the home of Bishop Lawrence for Mr. Roosevelt and accompanied him to Harvard University. After the exercises a luncheon was given at the Oakley Country Club, which Mr. Roosevelt attended. The most important feature of the "Roosevelt" class celebration was the presentation of $100,000 in cash, by members of the class. The gift was made absolutely without conditions or restrictions. The history of the class shows that its members now living are engaged in nine various professions and lines of business, as follows: Law, 47; business, 29; medicine, 29; government, 3; ministry, 7; farming, 6; railroading, 5; journalism, 5; without occupation, 11. Some of the distinguished members of the class are, besides President Roosevelt, Arthur Hale, son of Edward Everett Hale; F. B. Keene, E. S. Connel at Florence, Italy; F. H. Brackett, the noted writer of sacred music; Geo. A. Hibbard, the short story writer; Rev. John Doane, Eben D. Jordan and Henry W. Savage, the impressario.

Mr. Roosevelt will leave Cambridge late tonight for Oyster Bay.

Colored Woman Calls

The first caller on the President this morning was Mrs. Taylor, a colored woman who said she used to do the President's washing when he was in college. President Roosevelt came out on the veranda, shook hands and held a short conversation with the colored woman. After breakfast the President was driven to Massachusetts hall where the commencement procession was formed. The National Lancers formed the President's escort. The commencement exercises included the granting of diplomas to graduates and the bestowal of honorary degrees.

Cabled to William

The President today sent a cablegram to Emperor William, thanking him and the German people for the gift of the German museum to Harvard and for many similar acts which in recent years have brought the two nations closer together. He added: "This growing friendship between the two nations means much for the future welfare of mankind."

REPORTS SHOW A GOOD PROSPECT

FARMS THROUGHOUT THE STATE ARE LOOKING WELL.

THE STORM IN DANE COUNTY

General Crop Reports From All Over the State Show Decided Tendency at Improvement.

The increased temperature and full sunshine which have characterized the weather conditions during the past week have made a decided improvement in the crop situation in the state generally. In a few localities the severe thunderstorms which occurred generally over the southern and central counties Sunday night, June 18th, were accompanied with hail, resulting in serious damage to crops over limited areas. In the southwestern portion of Dane county the storm approached a tornado in violence. Mr. Chas. L. Brigham, correspondent at Blue Mounds, in reporting the storm of the 18th, says: "Right across the top of the hills and hundreds of small buildings were blown down. Some cattle, horses, and one man were killed. Nearly all the windows on the west side of the houses in Mount Horeb were broken. The storm is estimated to have covered an area of about 40 square miles, and within this area nearly all crops were a total loss." Hail occurred in other localities, but the damage is not considered serious.

Taking the state as a whole crops are generally in excellent condition, except on low land, where an excess of moisture has retarded growth and impaired vitality.

Winter Wheat and Rye
The week of dry weather has been very beneficial to these crops in strengthening the straw, which is very heavy and shows a tendency to lodge. Wheat is heading out well and in the southern counties beginning to ripen.

Spring Grains
Ons and barley are generally very heavy and rank. The dry weather during the week has checked the tendency to lodge and improved the outlook very materially. Spring wheat and rye are very satisfactory.

Corn
In most sections of the state corn made excellent progress, the dry weather being favorable for cultivation, and most of the fields are now fairly clear of weeds. The nights were as a rule a little too cool for rapid growth, but the crop is generally in satisfactory condition. The soil is well stored with moisture, and only warm weather is needed to bring the crop forward rapidly.

Potatoes
Potatoes as a rule are doing well except on low land, where the moisture is excessive. Potato bugs are very numerous and doing some damage.

Grass and Pastures
Clover is a very heavy crop and is about ready to cut. In the southern counties a portion of the crop was secured during the past week. Timothy is an excellent crop and will be ready for harvesting during the early part of July. Pastures are furnishing an abundance of feed.

Tobacco
The transplanting of tobacco is completed, and the plants, though somewhat small, are strong and healthy.

Minor Crops
Sugar beets are making good growth, but need sunshine and warm weather. Peas are doing well and gardens are satisfactory.

Fruit
Strawberries are ripening rapidly; the crop is large and quality excellent. Cherries are generally abundant and of good quality. Apples have set well and the outlook is satisfactory.

Southern Section
Fontana, Walworth county: All crops have made much improvement; hay a heavy crop; strawberries being harvested, crop large and quality excellent; potatoes doing well; rye and barley heading out with very heavy straw. C. L. Douglas.
Mondovi, Buffalo county: Corn making excellent progress; some clover is being cut, and good crop; barley heading; potatoes looking fairly good. R. Farrington.

Bristol, Kenosha county: Past week has been favorable for farm work; rye, oats and barley are doing nicely; corn is backward; grasses of all kinds heavy. R. R. Snyder.

Fredonia, Ozaukee county: Week favorable for farm work and some farmers are cutting clover; fruit dropping badly from trees and will yield a light crop; too much rain. Jno. P. Ney.

Shullsburg, Lafayette county: Corn looking good and has been well cultivated; strawberries ripened well and are in great abundance; potatoes are doing nicely. H. R. Chamberlain.

Watertown, Dodge county: Corn and potatoes making rapid growth; barley all headed out and oats will be headed out in a week or ten days; strawberries very good. Alex. Krueger.

W. M. WILSON, Section Director.

RAID ON GOPHER TRIBE
MADE BY DAVE BROWN

Janesville Crack-shot Reported to Have Returned With Big Bag of Game Yesterday.

Dave Brown, the well-known Court street merchant, is reported to have bagged over a hundred gophers in an all-day round-up in the town of Janesville yesterday. Most of the creatures were dispatched with a 22-rifle at a distance of from two to three hundred feet but when closely pressed the hunter was at times compelled to resort to his trusty sheath-knife. Another report has it that the quarry was secured at the Shinnisippi golf links on Sunday when the heavy rainstorm washed the whole gopher colony out of their communal and private underground holes.

OLD RACE-WAY HAS BECOME FOUL BASIN

Of Stagnant Water and Sewer-Refuse Since the Partial Filling In—Dangerous to Community.

Trouble is in store for those places of business which are located above and near the upper raceway of the Rock river. The partial filling in with gravel opposite the West Side engine-house, has resulted in the creation of a big basin of stagnant water whose offensiveness and disease-breeding properties are constantly increased by the flowing sewers. The stench arising therefrom is sometimes almost unbearable. Those at work in Baack's clothing store and Stillson's saloon are the most serious sufferers thus far. City Health Officer McCarthy's attention has been called to the matter and he proposes to request Mayor Hutchinson and the aldermen to take some steps to remedy the nuisance.

OPERATIONS AT THE BUSIEST OF CORNERS

In the City Interest the Curious—Police Doing Valiant Service There—The Paving Work

Hundreds of the curious stopped last evening to look at the heavy switch-tracks that are being installed at the intersection of Main and Milwaukee streets. The story was general that the Interurban railroad would take charge of the local line next week and would in a short time be running their cars around a big loop taking in South Main street. Whether or not any of these dreams will ever come true remains to be seen. Supt. Murphy is pushing the work of installing the "Y" with his characteristic energy and announces that the work will be completed before the first of next week.

Patrolmen did yeoman service at this busiest corner of the city yesterday. The excavating work for the laying of the ties and the beginning of the paving operations on Milwaukee street just to the east of the crossing, made it a difficult and dangerous place for teams and accidents might easily have occurred had not the officers been on hand from early morning until late at night to assist drivers and protect pedestrians. Officer Benek who was there during the forenoon was relieved by Officer Brown at noon. Officer Fanning took up his post there about mid-afternoon and was succeeded by Marshal Comstock during the supper-hour. Officers Champion and Morrissey were alternately on guard in the evening.

The paving contractor announces that one side of East Milwaukee street will be in shape for the passage of teams on July 4. While the brick will not be laid the crushed stone will be rolled so as to permit vehicles to get through without much difficulty.

On the Myers estate the heaviest expense for the construction of the new pavement will fall. The cost for one half of the entire block on East Milwaukee from Main to Bluff as well as on South Main, in front of the hotel and six stores, and on Milwaukee again in front of the Galbraith barns, will have to be taxed to it and it is estimated that the total amount will approximate $3,000. J. M. Bostwick & Sons will have to pay about $800 for the improved roadway in front of their South Main street property. The cost of paving in front of the public library and city park will be taxed to the general fund of the city.

He has just come from Oshkosh. Ramsey and Hopkins are fresh from the La Crosse team, having been traded for Vogt, Beloit's crack third baseman. Fenette did brilliant work both in the field and with the stick. The score: R. H. E. Beloit . . . 2 0 0 2 0 1 1 0 *—6 12 4

Score: R. H. E. Green Bay . . . 1 0 0 1 0 1 2 1—6 10 1

EVA WHYTENTHORPE THE EQUESTRIENNE

Famous European Beauty Announces That She Will Once More Appear in Big Nonesuch Parade.

No single announcement has been hailed with greater acclaim by the delighted management of the great Janesville Fourth of July carnival than that contained in a telegram from Burr Springs, Ky., today, assuring them that the beautiful Mme. Eva Whytenthorpe whose daring feats of bareback-riding created a sensation last year, would again appear under the management of the Nonesuch Brothers.

MME. EVA WHYTENTHORPE

An autograph letter from the peerless equestrienne arrived with the noon mail. She addressed "Monsieur Le Nonesuch" in her own inimitable French, gently reproaching him for never sending the roses he lost on a wager just a year ago and plaintively declaring that if he should ever so much as get around to lay them on her bier she might be tempted to arise in her chill white mousseline-de-soie and say: "Good boy!" However, this is purely personal and has no place in the glad tidings that the Mademoiselle is to be here. She enclosed her greetings to "la belle Janesville" and re-echoed the words of the jovial showman "that it had the gay Parée beaten to a fine frazzle on the great fee day."

The fair Eva will appear in a brand-new act this year and will be supported by a company of American and European stellar lights including such names as Carlotta Clark, who has already won the ringing plaudits of Chicago audiences, Edouard de Peters, Countess Charlienne Renidos, Mme. Samuella Sechtan, and other celebrities whose fame has perhaps not reached these shores. The performance is to be another of Mme. Eva's little surprises and even the Brothers Nonesuch will have to satisfy their curiosity with surprises until the afternoon of the coming Tuesday.

This a Poem.

There has been considerable rivalry in a certain boarding house in the city relative to the merits of one of the boarders, a young lady, poetry. The pros and cons of the question were discussed and it was finally decided to leave it to the public to settle the mooted question. The appended bit of verse, labeled a poem so as not to be mistaken for a loaf of bread or a bit of cheese, is left for the poor suffering public to read or throw away. It has its merits.

There was a cute little boy,
Whose greatest joy
Was to smoke a good cigar.
So a little bird flew
From the sky so blue,
With a good cigar,
From this realm so far.
And placed on the plate,
Of this youth so great.
So the youth did smoke,
And joke and joke,
Of that eve when he did crave,
A poem, of a lady, who was very, very grave.

Of a poem that she actually
Did endeavor to write,
But which she knew 'twere better,
To have kept clear out of sight.
For it really was no poem at all,
Not even a single word,
But a suggestion of some of the poorest songs.

That comes from the poorest of birds,
So he laughed and joked,
And joked and laughed,
As long as he was able.
So thus ended this storiette,
That deserves not the name of fable.

Washing Dishes 365 Days in the Year.
Several housekeepers have asked the question of late if I thought it would be possible for any one to cure themselves of the dislike to washing dishes. It is true that very few like to do this homely work. I cured myself of the distaste to it by surrounding the work with attractive helps. This work is a necessary home duty recurring day after day, but the dishes must be washed, of course, and of all the duties that fall to woman's lot, this seems to be the most disliked. There is an "ideal" way and the only one I know that will make the work pleasant and it is to surround the work with attractive, pretty things. Get a cedar tub with stout brass hoops, as it is so much nicer to use than tinware. Have a pretty china soap dish to hold your cake of soap, then have a stack of white tea towels; two mops, one long-handled one for the pitchers; have nice dish-cloth, make them of cheese-cloth and hem them nicely. Have a tin box with covered top and fill it with pearline to wash the greasy neat dishes with as it cuts the grease so quickly and easily and have an easy chair near your table to sit in and never stand to wash dishes.

Will Picnic Tomorrow: The annual picnic of the St. Paul's Lutheran Sunday school will be held at Crystal Springs park tomorrow. Boats leave at ten and eleven o'clock in the morning and at half-past twelve, half-past one and half-past two in the afternoon. Round trip, fifteen cents. During the afternoon a baseball game will be played between the Red Sox and another local team.

HALF CENTURY WAS WELL CELEBRATED

The Shopiere Methodist Church Holds Its Semi-Centennial Recently

On the 14th of June, 1905, there was celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of the Methodist Episcopal church in Shopiere, Wis.

It was a day that will be long remembered by those who attended. It was both pleasant and profitable to all.

Four of the former pastors were present and participated in the program together with the present pastor and presiding elder. These were assisted by the members of the society who represented the various departments of the church work.

The program rendered was as follows: Meeting called to order at 10.40 by the president of the day, Wm. H. Howard. Singing by the choir followed by the reading of the Scripture lesson by Rev. W. E. Callahan of Spring Prairie, Wis.

Duet by Miss Ida Sweet and R. Overton. Prayer by Rev. E. S. McClesney. Singing by the choir and congregation. Address of welcome by W. H. Howard. Response by Rev. A. Porter of Sharon. Singing followed by the anniversary sermon by Rev. R. K. Maniton of Racine. Singing by the choir, after which all retired to the church parlors where a bountiful dinner was served in charge of the Ladies' Aid.

An hour was spent in social enjoyment and the renewing of old acquaintances when the program was continued at 2.30 p. m.

Singing by the congregation was followed by the reading of a paper prepared by Mrs. R. Kemmerer entitled, "The History of the Church." This was followed by a supplementary history given by Mr. Barrett Smith. The pastor in charge then read letters from the following former pastors who could not be present: Rev. N. J. Aplin, Britton, S. D.; Rev. A. Potter, Allens Grove, Wis.; Rev. W. A. Peterson, Grand Rapids, Wis.; and Rev. T. C. Richardson, Edgerton, Wis. Also a letter from Mrs. Lanta Wilson Smith, a daughter of a former pastor, Rev. J. Wilson. Report of the Epworth League by Mr. E. D. Billings. Obituaries and a letter written by Mrs. Mary Wells was read by Mrs. M. Van Gilder. Singing by choir and congregation was then followed by the Anniversary Love Feast, lead by C. J. Bulley of Clinton, Wis., and the sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered by Rev. E. S. McClesney, P. E.

From 4.30 to 5.30 a social time was enjoyed after which the entire company was again summoned to the church parlors where the ladies did themselves credit in serving tea to all who remained for the evening session. The only charter member present was Mrs. Sam'l Kemmerer of Janesville, Wis. A number of others were present who were residents of Shopiere when the church was organized. The evening session opened at 7.45 with singing, followed by a report of the Ladies' Aid, by Mrs. Emma Case. The session was made memorably pleasant by short addresses given by former pastors, interspersed by singing by the choir; solo by Mr. R. Overton; duet by Miss Wilkins and Rev. R. K. Maniton, and singing by a quartet.

Rev. McClesney, P. E., of Janesville, Wis., was called upon to make the closing remarks, which he did in a very pleasing manner.

The benediction was pronounced by Rev. R. K. Maniton. All returned home at a late hour feeling that the day had been well spent. The pastor and people very much appreciated having so many of the friends from a distance with them.

BUILDING NOTES

The contract for the addition to the Rock county court house was let yesterday to David Stewart. There were but three bids put in and the successful figure was $6,339. Blair & Summers and James Shearer were the others who placed bids. The addition will be built on the eastern wall of the structure and will be one story high with ground dimensions 28x28. It will take the place of the rear stairway, but cover only two windows, one in Judge Sale's office and the other in the circuit court's lower room, which will be transformed into a doorway. The architecture of the new part will be identical with that of the old building and the appearance of the court house will not be injured in the least. This remodelled portion will accommodate two immense vaults for filing purposes.

A. Summers of the firm of Blair & Summers is in Brodhead superintending the remodeling work on the Young hotel there. The foundation construction has already been commenced.

Plans are now being drawn in the office of L. L. Hilton for a new residence for Arland S. McGee. It will be situated on Ravine street between Washington and Terrace and be a two story frame structure with concrete block foundation.

The masonry work on the double front of the new McVicar building and the Walter Helms block on South Main street has been started.

The new Kline building on North Franklin street is almost completed. The work is about done now and with a few more finishing touches the stores will be ready for occupancy.

New York Letter.
New York, June 27.—Whatever other plans the Pennsylvania railroad officials may have in mind, they are certainly engrossed for the immediate present with plans for reducing the time between New York and important cities in the West and far West, as far as it is possible to do so. Gratified by the success of cutting two hours from the time between New York and Chicago, a train has been added which materially reduces the time between New York and St. Louis, the trip being made now in twenty-seven and one-half hours. The time to Cincinnati from this city has also been shortened to seventeen hours. The general improvement of the roadway of the Pennsylvania system, both East and West of Pittsburgh, amounting in many instances to almost entire reconstruction, enables the company to offer these reductions in time.

The Vanderbilt plans for the construction of an international tunnel under the Detroit river between Detroit, Mich., and Windsor, Ont., have been completed. Two corporations are being formed by the Vanderbilt management for the purpose of constructing the tunnel, one under the laws of Canada and the other under the laws of Michigan. Each will be practically a Vanderbilt company, and will last only until the work in hand has been completed. The tunnel will be a third-rail electric one. The Canada Southern is to be the financial head of the construction company on the Canadian side, while the Michigan Central will finance the work on the American side.

It is reported on the best of authority that the Union Pacific is interested in a deal which contemplates the taking over of great coal lands in eastern Utah and Western Wyoming owned by Patrick J. Kuealy, son of P. J. Kuealy, of Omaha, Neb.

Railroad men, especially those identified with traffic departments, are puzzled over the purpose of the recent conference between representatives of the Southern and the Southern Pacific. There is a strong suspicion that these lines and the Frisco are conspiring to control transcontinental traffic in opposition to Gould interests. People connected with the Frisco co have encouraged the idea that their interests and those of the Harriman lines were antagonistic. It is therefore considered strange that the meeting in question was held because the Southern owns a half interest in the New Orleans Terminal and the Frisco the other half.

So far as it is possible in connection with the necessities of traffic Sunday has been declared to be a day of rest over the entire St. Paul Railroad system. Orders have recently been issued by the management of the company discontinuing Sunday excursions between certain points in the far West. No crews will be kept over the Sabbath unless it is absolutely necessary. Regular trains will, of course, be attended to, but there will be no extra movement of trains with a view to clearing up any congestion which may arise on the lines.

Traffic Manager Wellington of the Colorado & Southern says that with the Colorado & Texas extension this year the community interests will be greatly augmented. He admits that the company will eventually have a good outlet for the Northwestern via Fort Worth and the Trinity & Brazos Valley to Houston and Galveston.

The historic old locomotive "37 of the Alton" has gone to the scrap track. It was hauled from St. Louis to Springfield, Mo., a few days ago to its doom. It was the "37 of Alton" that made the world-famed run from Bloomington, Ill., to Chicago in 1871, hauling the Bloomington fire department to help extinguish the terrible fire that was then sweeping over Chicago. This was the second day of the fire. It made a mile in 57 seconds the first time that such a feat had been accomplished by a locomotive in America.

DEPARTMENTAL REFORMS.

President Roosevelt's appointment
of a commission to investigate the business methods in the executive departments at Washington promises
to promote reform in a field in which reform is urgently needed. It is inevitable, perhaps, that government
work should be done under relatively low pressure. The United States is a liberal employer, and it is doubtless proper that in the matter of shortened hours and reasonable compensation for its working force it should set a generous example to the private citizen; but, though the federal government does not drive—and
does not need to drive—the people
who do its work, it should not be expected to encourage them in slothful
and wasteful business habits. It is entitled to all the benefits of intelligent and economical organization,
and it should insist on having departmental methods conform to the progressive standards of modern business practice.

Red tape and circumlocution have been a serious impediment to good
administration in many branches of the federal service. In other branches
antiquated usages have been retained and the force has not done the work it is capable of doing under up-to date management. Moreover, there has been a striking lack of co-ordination in the methods in vogue in the various departments. Each department has developed along its own lines and worked out its own rules of procedure. The need of a greater uniformity in organization and management has long been evident, and President Roosevelt gives one more proof of his reforming energy in taking practical steps to standardize
the government's business methods
and bring order out of administrative chaos.

The President has selected as a commission of inquiry five of the youngest and most energetic department officials in Washington—Charles H. Keep, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury; Frank H. Hitchcock, First Assistant Postmaster General; Lawrence O. Murray, Assistant Secretary of Commerce and Labor; James R.
Garfield, Commissioner of Corporations in the Department of Commerce
and Labor; and Clifford Pinchot, the forester of the Department of Agriculture. By his direction these commissioners are to make a thorough examination of the government service and making uniform its business
methods. Such abuses are to be corrected as paying different salaries in different branches for practically the same work, disbursing funds here by check and there by check, and purchasing supplies here under one system
of safeguards and there under another.
It is the President's idea that a central bureau of supplies should be established, through which all purchases should be made, thus doing
away with much useless machinery
and enabling a central office to keep
in check extravagant tendencies on the part of any single department.
The postoffice purchase scandals under Beavers and Machen showed the weakness of the old method, which allowed each department to submit its own proposals and make its own bargains. In addition, the President especially recommends the abolition of
red tape and the suppression of cir-
cumlocution bureau correspondence—
useless letter writing constituting, in his opinion, one of the most serious
wastes of the present system.

There is ample room for reform in departmental methods, and the investigation committee can save the government millions of dollars if it
devises a successful standardizing
plan and re-establishes the federal service, as a whole, on a thoroughly
modern and logical business basis.

INTERNATIONAL AMENITIES.

Our London correspondent's letter
in last Sunday's Tribune suggested reflection upon a feature of the new American Ambassador's advent at the British capital which at once
marked a dramatic and historic episode and agreeably revealed a somewhat unusual degree of international

amenity. He reminded us that Mr.
Reid, being through special favor of officially received without delay, was enabled to join in welcoming the young King of Spain, and thus to emphasize American good feeling and respect for the nation with which the United States was at war only seven years ago.

The incident strikingly illustrated
the rapid changes which time effects
in international relationships. A successor of Phillip II was the welcome
guest of a successor of Elizabeth.
What chapters of history that single sentence unfolds! We must, however, remember that the England of Drake and Grenville was also the England of Wellington. If at the end of the sixteenth century she defied
and destroyed the power of Spain at sea, at the beginning of the nineteenth
she rescued the kingdom of Spain itself from alien domination. Equally striking was the circumstance that
the King of Spain met with more than conventional courtesy the Ambassador power which seven years ago
vanquished Spain on sea and land and
deprived her of nearly all her colonial possessions; that Ambassador being, also, one of the men who as commissioners at Paris in 1898 imposed on Spain the treaty not only of peace
but of partition. Yet again we must remember that the nation which took Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines
from Spain was the same nation that
for half a century effectively guaranteed and protected Spain in her possession of Porto Rico and Cuba
against all the world.

These things set forth in an instructive light the potentialities of international friendships, for both constancy and change. We sometimes speak of hereditary enemies and traditional friendships. There are none.
Opportunism prevails and dominates
international relations. Ties of race,
blood, language, literature, manners
and laws are doubtless potent in drawing and holding some nations
together. Apart therefrom no nation
can be expected to befriend another
in opposition to and at the sacrifice
of its own essential interests. On the other hand, no matter how alien two nations may be, or how openly and violently hostile they may have been,
community of interest and of aim will bring them close together. Mr. Reid
at Plymouth described the good understanding between Great Britain and America as resting, not only on natural good will and an instinct of real kindship, "but, next and best, on the
profound conviction that such a relation must be enduring through the freedom of both, the Christianity of both and the passion in both for justice." It is gratifying to believe that the friendly relations between Spain
and the two great Anglo-Saxon powers are similarly inspired and confirmed by at least a growing ap-
proachment in aims of freedom, faith
and justice.

The northern portions of the state
are appreciating just what reform
really is just now and they will not be so ready to adapt itself next time
as they have in the past. It was the same thing in the Granger movement
in seventy but some people have to be taught a good lesson before they get their eyes opened.

There seems to be no doubt that the anti-pass law is not making the administration many friends. It is all right to holler for reform all along
as it hits some one else but when it hits you then it is not reform but robbery.

Uncle Sam has really entered the field of European politics. What with Russia and Japan to settle their difficulties here and Uncle Sam asked
to take part in the Franco-German squabble his hands will be full of litigation all summer long.

Telegraphic dispatches announce that the peace envoys for both Japan
and Russia have been selected and
at the same time report that the Ja-
nese advance in Manchuria continues.

Chicago News: It must be dread-
fully shocking to the delicate sensi-

ting into the situation with vulgar remarks about "stealing."

Bau Claire Telegram: A Milwaukee
newspaper reporter is accused of "putting up" the scheme whereby

Chilton Times: The stick-to-itiveness
of Gov. La Follette is worthy of admiration. His tenacity in holding on to office has never been equaled in this or any other country. He won't let go of the gubernatorial chair. Whether he draws a double salary or not is of minor importance. He is the whole thing.

Green Bay Gazette: It is asserted
that the governor and his followers
have had everything so completely their own way during the session of the legislature that they have left themselves no issue upon which to fight in the next campaign. There must be a mistake somewhere. Bob
is resourceful enough to find an issue
even where there is none.

Milwaukee Free Press: If Canada
honestly wishes to exclude citizens
of the United States who seek employment on her railroads, and finds it difficult to frame a law that will stand
the investigation of her own courts,
why does she not get a copy of our Chinese exclusion law and apply that
to the Yankee "peril"? It is difficult to see what kick we could have coming.

Evening Wisconsin: The trading of muscle for educational opportunities
has grown to be too common for the honor of university athletics, and the possessors of muscle have been too
open in their movements and dealings. Unless a halt is called, and university records are made to hinge
on the ability of bona fide athletic
material, the university field sports
and university games on the gridiron
will descend to the level of professional baseball, in which players are handled like property having a cash
value, and sold or traded in accord
with the whims of managers.

El Paso Herald: After all, the Equitable scandal paid, for it has induced a season of housecleaning
among the other insurance companies,
and the big corporations. Business men have awakened to the fact that
the practice of directors tipping themselves for doing business with
their corporations is plain dishonesty.
What nobody would stand for
in the case of a clerk surreptitiously
collecting commissions on purchases,
stockholders will no longer stand for
in the case of the directors they elect
to run their companies for them.

Rockford Register-Gazette: Does it
pay to be an Indian, is a question
which will have to be settled in the affirmative by those who reckon
only by the money standard, according to Mr. Curtis, the Record-Herald correspondent. Certain of the tribes
of Indian territory are taking in over a quarter of a million a year from their coal leases. Some ambitious whites have been marrying into the ranks of the Redskins for years, but there is still an aristocracy of the pure-bloods, who look down on all white admixtures. The Seminoles are giving an example that their tribesmen are as well able to drive a good bargain as any of their white brethren.

Appleton Post: It has been so often declared that the pension roll
has reached its highest point in the history of the country that people
will view with incredulity the announcement of Commissioner Warner
that from now on the roll will decrease barring another war. Two months ago the roll numbered 1,001, 736 pensioners. This number has shrunk to about one million, the death
loss in April being 1028. A shrinkage would be welcome if caused by pruning of undeserving names. But a shrinkage which involves the passing away of so many men in so short
of time is saddening to contemplate.

The vast sums of money expended in the care of those who risked life and
fortune in defense of the country
would never be grudged if there was an absolute assurance that the money
went to the right persons. But pension frauds have not been uncommon
for nothing seems too sacred for the avaricious to leave alone. Ultimately, the real veterans themselves
are the losers for if it were not for
the suspicion of frauds, pensions undoubtedly would be of a larger amount
than they now are.

Fond du Lac Reporter: There is a growing discord in the present administration camp. Governor La Follette
has been in the habit of hogging all
the glory and expecting all the reward, present and future but he has a rival in Insurance Commissioner Zeno M. Host. During his time in office Mr. Host has not been idle. He has proven himself an efficient officer and has taken care to let it be known that the credit for the administration of the insurance commissioner's office belonged to him and not to the governor. As a result he has acquired a rapidly growing following

throughout the state and these followers have been drawn principally from the half-breed "camp." It has gone so far that Mr. Host has actually defied the governor on several occasions and there is considerable
talk of his candidacy for the governorship in 1906. Whether or not Mr.
Host seeks further political honors
is problematical but it is certain
that he has behind him a following
that will make him a power in the republican party should he desire to assert himself.

"A Greed For Velocity."

Milwaukee Sentinel: Dr. Washington Gladden is not to be complacent
on the common sense or the regard for facts displayed in his somewhat hysterical sermon last Sunday
on the railway wreck at Mentor. But apparently the opportunity for a
flourish of sensationalism in the way
of a lecture on the immoral predilection of the modern public for speedy
locomotion was too good to be lost.
After paying his disrespects to cycling and motoring as examples of that
"greed for velocity" which is "essential to our pleasures, and increasing our perils," and so forth, the reverend gentleman came to his point by denouncing the "furious schedules" of
the railways and declaring that the
"awful casualty at Mentor emphasized
the peril." Now the Mentor catastrophe did no such thing, since it is perfectly plain that the wreck was due,
not to speed or to what the doctor
nonsensically calls a furious schedule,
but to an open switch. Investigation has shown that exceptional speed was not a factor in the disaster; and
therefore the eighteen-hour schedule
will be resumed. It is safe to say that ten years or so from now this
"furious" eighteen-hour schedule will be looked back to as slow; and Dr.
Gladden should realize that we are living in an age of progress and improvement in these matters, and remember also that in the early stages
of steam locomotion travel by the comparatively small paced trains of that day was regarded by the champions of the stage coach as a sort of sinful tempting of providence and an indication of an immoral "greed for velocity."

PEACE PRAYERS PRESUMPTUOUS

Mrs. Eddy Asks Scientists to Cease
Effort to Sway Divine Will.

Concord, N. H., June 28.—Rev.
Mary Baker G. Eddy has issued the following request to the members of the First Church of Christ Scientist:
"Hear, O Israel, the Lord God is one Lord. I now request that the members of my church cease special prayer
for the peace of nations, and cease in full faith that God does not hear our prayers only because of our speaking;
but that he will bless all the inhabitants of the earth, and none can stay
his hand nor say unto him, 'What doest thou?' Out of his altness he must bless all with his own truth and love."

Maintain Paupers in Cottages.

The plan of maintaining the children of the poor—or such as may be in the poorhouses—or "unions"—in cottages and homes of that character, is finding a very general adoption in England, no less than 128 "unions"
now maintaining the children away
from the pauperizing effects of poorhouse associations. The county of London paid out 72 cents a head of its population for the half year on poor account.

Deserving of Relief.

In the case of an old man named Sheehan of Tralee, Ireland, who had applied for relief, one of the guardians
of the poor remarked: "The poor man should have some relief. Sure, he has no bed clothes but his goat."

MISS RUGER WEDS MR. GEORGE SALE

CEREMONY AT CHRIST CHURCH
THIS AFTERNOON.

A BEAUTIFUL JUNE WEDDING

Church Was Tastefully Decorated for
the Occasion—Reception at the Bride's Residence Afterwards

This afternoon at four o'clock Miss Alice Louise Ruger was united in marriage to Mr. George H. Sale at Christ Episcopal church, Rev. Arthur Barrington reading the marriage ceremony. Miss Ruger, maid-of-honor, and Miss Mary Valentine and Miss Josephine Carle as bridesmaids. Dr. Frank Van Kirk of Chicago was best man and Arthur Baird of Los Angeles, California, F. J. Jeffris of Chicago, George Buchholz and Dr. George Pifford of Janesville were the ushers. Immediately following the church ceremony a reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Ruger, Sr., 103 South Bluff street.

A Daisy Wedding

Christ church was beautifully decorated for the ceremony. It was one vista of white, marguerites and field daisies being tied in bunches on each pew and along the sides of the choir. The altar was a bank of Easter lilies and white Canterbury bells. Miss Ruger was gowned in white chiffon with white point lace. Miss Shumway, the maid-of-honor, wore white silk mull over pink silk and a white lace hat. The bridesmaids, Miss Mae Valentine and Miss Josephine Carle, were attired in pink flowered mull over white silk, and white lace hats. They carried bunches of pink sweet-peas. Miss Ruger carried a large cluster of white sweet-peas. Little Marian Norcross, niece of the bride, was the flower girl and was dressed in a dainty white lace dress. She carried a basket of rose leaves which she scattered before the bride party. Miss Julia Wilson presided at the organ and played the beautiful Lohengrin and Mendelssohn wedding marches. John V. Norcross of Chicago, a brother-in-law of the bride, acted as master of ceremonies.

The Reception

Immediately following the church service a reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents on South Bluff street. The reception room where the bride party stood was most tastefully banked with potted palms and white daisies, the fireplace having been converted into a little bower of trailing vines and flowers. In the supper-room the color scheme was pink, roses of that color and pink Canterbury bells, with pink shades for the lights, being employed with pleasing effect. A dainty two-course wedding supper was served, each guest being presented with a tiny box of wedding cake. The parlor was in red with a profusion of red roses and trailing vines. The hallway was in yellow marigolds. But seventy-five relatives and intimate friends of the bride couple were at the reception. Mr. and Mrs. Sale will leave on the seven o'clock train for Chicago. They will be at the home after September 1 in the LaVista flats.

Are Well Known

Both the bride and groom are Janesville young people. Miss Ruger is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Ruger, Sr., and has been prominent in society and church work. The groom, Mr. George H. Sale, is a son of the Hon. John Sale and is in his father's office as a register of probate.

A number of trees were blown down in that locality and some of the crops and small buildings suffered.

Just after the crash someone living nearby came out and seized him and held him until the officer got to the scene. The sentence passed was one year in the state's prison at Waupun. KICKERS' KOLUM

To the Editor: Would it not be well to put a word of warning in the columns of the Gazette to the line-men of the telephone and electric light companies to be careful in handling their wires so that persons walking on the streets be not subjected to unnecessary annoyance?
"A PEDESTRIAN."

To the Public: Is it the Kickers' Kolum for a "boost"? If it is I would like to commend the city police for the able manner in which they are attending to the crowds at the intersection of Main and Milwaukee streets. Teams are allowed to move at just such a speed and serving as ciphers from careless and serious accidents from their diligence. It is commendable and should meet the approval of those who have opposed the present administration of police matters.
"A BUSINESS MAN."

To the Editor: Last night I enjoyed the band concert despite the cold weather because I had a place to sit down. Why not hold all the concerts in the Courthouse park? The musicians themselves prefer it and I understand the only persons objecting are the saloon men on the other side of the river. If the concerts are given for their benefit all right, I have nothing to say.
"TRULY SORRY."

Editor Gazette: I am, among many, ignorant of the general text of the "Anti-Cigarette Law" that passed the last Wisconsin State Legislature. Kindly give me an idea of what it is. And oblige.
"SMOKER."

In answer to the above the following is a reprint of the law:

Text of the Law

Section 1. Any person who shall, by himself, his servant or agent, or as the servant or agent of any other person, directly or indirectly, or upon any pretense, or by any device, manufacture, sell, offer for sale, keep for sale, give away, or otherwise dispose of or bring into this state for the purpose of selling, offering for sale, giving away or otherwise disposing of any cigarettes, cigarette paper or cigarette wrappers, or any substitute therefor, or any paper made or prepared for the purpose of making cigarettes or any substitute therefor, or for the purpose of being filled with tobacco for smoking; or who shall own, keep or be in any way concerned, engaged or employed in, owning, or keeping any such cigarettes, cigarette paper, cigarette wrappers or substitute therefor; or who shall authorize or permit the same to be done, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished, for the first offense by a fine of not less than $25 nor more than $50, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding thirty days, and for the second and each subsequent offense by a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $500, or by imprisonment in the county jail not less than thirty days nor more than six months; provided, that the provisions thereof shall not apply to the sales of jobbers or manufacturers doing an interstate business with customers outside of this state.

Section 2. Section 4608T of the statutes of 1898 and all other acts or parts of acts in conflict with the provisions of this act, are hereby repealed.

Section 3. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after July 1, 1905.

To add further evidence the following clipping from the Chicago Record-Herald is reprinted:

Milwaukee, April 23.—Reports from Madison seem to indicate that a "joke" of very large proportions has been found in the cigarette law recently passed, making it much more drastic than was intended. Under the new construction it is held that anyone having in his possession any cigarettes or "the makings" of the paper pipes is subject to fine or imprisonment.

All this trouble is said to be made by two semicolons. Correlated between these insignificant punctuation marks are the words "or who shall own, keep or be in any way concerned, engaged or employed in owning or keeping any such cigarettes, cigarette paper, cigarette wrappers, or substitute therefor."

Rule of Construction

It is the general legal construction that words between semicolons are to be construed as if they were alone. If this is followed in the cigarette bill no more cigarettes will be smoked in Wisconsin after July 1, as no one can have them in his possession. This was something never contemplated by the law; but there it stands, and it will furnish another excuse for taking the statute to the supreme court.

There is another troublesome feature. While the law provides that July 1 is the date for stopping the sale of cigarettes, the usual section that the law shall take effect on and after its passage and publication is included, and if published before July 1, it will go into effect then. In fact, there are all sorts of troubles ahead for cigarette lovers.

Get Married Then

Kickers' Kolum: Rarer than a day in June or the real milk of discontented human kindness is a decent cup of coffee in the city of Janesville. Such a commodity cannot be obtained anywhere I have been able to discover outside of a private home. There are degrees of badness, of course—ranging from the thin, dishwater, tasteless decoction to the heavy, bitter, muddy stew that is gulped down with many facial contortions by the sad-eyed boarder. Is the ability to make good coffee a lost art with those who cater to the public, or does the fault lie in the poor quality of "berries" purchased or the slovenly habits of the cooks? I am convinced that it is to be attributed largely to the last-named cause. There is no virtue and no economy in old or cleaned and even scoured after each "brew." Otherwise—that rank, stale taste is as sure to reappear in the new extract as a bad habit when the thin veneer of romance has worn off. Then, again, nothing in the least resembling the real nectar of the gods may be expected if red-hot water is poured on the ground-berries at the outset and the whole urged to boil furiously. Cold water, always, at the start. This is of course a small matter, but I am sure hundreds of the defrauded will join me in saying that it has a place in the Kickers' Kolum. Even those who have homes, in many cases, find at the occasional church socials the only opportunity of securing anything that in the least resembles the luscious, rare old cup their mothers used to make.

COUNTY BOARD IS IN SESSION TODAY

To Make Arrangements for the Building
of the New Addition to the Court House.

To make the necessary arrangements for the building of the new addition to the Court House the county board met in special session this afternoon. Supervisors R. W. Cheever of Clinton, B. N. Haugen of Orford, and J. C. McEvoy of Beloit, were absent. L. W. Thompson of the first ward, Beloit, has resigned and D. E. Cannon of that city has been appointed in his place. The award of the contract of building the courthouse addition to David Stewart whose bid of $6,339 was the lowest submitted, was followed up with the acceptance of Architect Hilton's offer to furnish plans and superintend the work for three per cent. $10,000 was appropriated from the general fund, by a resolution introduced by Supervisor Gettle, for the purpose of the erection of the vault addition, the installation of the necessary filing cases, and paying for the services of architect and superintendent. Committee No. 10 through its chairman, Supervisor A. C. Powers, made its report on bills and the same was adopted. A special committee consisting of Supervisors Simon Smith of Beloit, L. E. Gettle of Edgerton, and S. S. Jones of Clinton, was appointed to look up the requirements under the law for the new municipal court at Beloit, established by the last legislature and the salaries of the several officers, reporting at the November meeting, at which time the law directs that all necessary arrangements shall be made by the board. The session of the board was not expected to continue over today.

WILL START SUIT AGAINST MR. BREWER

Col. Nonesuch Believes His Name,
His Stock in Trade, Has Been Damaged.

Papers in a suit against Chester L. Brewer, athletic manager at the Michigan state agricultural college at Lansing, Michigan, and the students of that institution are shortly to be filed by Col. Nonesuch for the use of his name for a mid-winter circus held there last year. It appears in a copy of the charges that the athletes of Mr. Brewer's school gave a society circus last winter calling it the Nonesuch circus. This Col. Nonesuch alleges hurts his business and he prays the court of justice to grant him damages to the amount of four cents. The Nonesuch circus at Lansing was in no way similar to the famous aggregation which visits Janesville each Fourth as it did not have the originality of enterprise that Col. Nonesuch always puts into his entertainments. This year the musical committee have hired the Lake Mills, Edgerton, Ft. Atkinson and Imperial Band of this city and a famous drum corps of seven pieces. These with the famous midway band, the negro melody orchestra, the clown band, the Hungarian band and the continental drum corps connected with the circus will furnish the music for the day.

ST. PAUL ROAD WILL BUILD ROUNDHOUSE

Superintendent P. C. Eldredge and Officials Staked Off Ground
Yesterday Afternoon.

That the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway are to either build a new roundhouse in this city or remodel and enlarge the present structure is now a certainty. Superintendent P. C. Eldredge was here from Milwaukee yesterday and together with other officials of the road spent the afternoon at the roundhouse. Stakes were placed beyond the south-east side and to the rear of the present structure and it seems to indicate that rebuilding will be the work done. If the stakes mark the new walls of the house the changes will increase the number of engine stalls by one and lengthen all, in order that the largest locomotives in use on the road can be accommodated without extending beyond the doorways. In the new portion there would be more room for the shop equipment also. There has been talk of building a new house here for some years, but the present move comes as a surprise to the large majority of employees, it being thought, when nothing was done this spring, that the idea of building here had been abandoned for the year.

STATE NOTES

On Saturday, July 1, will be celebrated the twentieth anniversary of the day Senator A. M. Jones assumed the management of the Bethesda springs, Waukesha.

For more than three weeks he had lived in the heart of the aristocratic section of the town.

A PRETTY WEDDING AT TRINITY CHURCH

Miss Gertrude Richards Weds Mr.
Harry McCarthy at High
Noon Today.

At high noon today one of the prettiest weddings of the season occurred in Trinity church, in which the Rev. Herbert C. Boissier united in holy matrimony Miss Gertrude Richards and Mr. Harry McCarthy, both of this city. A large congregation witnessed the ceremony. As the bride party entered the church the vested choir under the arrangements of the choirmaster, Mr. H. E. Ranous, met them at the door and formed a procession, singing the hymn, "The Voices That Breathed O'er Eden." The music was beautifully rendered by the organist, Mrs. Doty. The bride came in the church leaning on the arm of her father. She was gowned in a handsome brown silk suit and carried white roses and around her neck she wore a silver chain and pendant which was given to her by her father when a little child, also a gold cross given by her parents. She was attended by her sister, Miss Mabel Richards, who was accompanied by Miss Alice Young.

Mr. Archibald Richards acted as groomsmen. Immediately after the ceremony the bride party returned to the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Richards, where the house was decorated beautifully with smilax, roses and carnations. A tempting four-course dinner was served to the immediate relatives, the rector of Trinity church and the choir, during which Miss M. Curtis played the piano. The bride and groom are among Janesville's most popular and esteemed young people and their many friends which are legion unite in wishing them every success and happiness. They were the recipients of many handsome presents. Mr. and Mrs. McCarthy will go to housekeeping at 307 South Main street.

President R. C. Hughes of Ripon college has started on a vacation trip to Europe. The trip is made at the expense of prominent alumni whose names are not known and who sent the funds through A. G. Farr of Chicago.

Home Health Club

By DAVID H. REEDER, Ph.D., M.D.
La Porte, Ind.

Now that summer is about to begin, it is wise to prepare for those diseases or disorders which usually afflict the people during that season. It is probable that cholera is about as greatly dreaded as any of the summer diseases, but by the simple knowledge that has been taught by osteopathy, one may feel reasonably safe from it at any time, as the treatment is practical and easily given.

Cholera is an acute, specific, infectious disease, occurring epidemically, generally, and is characterized by violent purging of a peculiar watery fluid, together with persistent vomiting of a similar fluid, accompanied by extremely severe muscular cramps. The lethal tendency is most prominent in the nervous system, complete collapse occurring, and in some cases, subsequent death. This disease is attributed to bacilli by the majority of the profession, there existing during its presence what is known as the comma bacillus of Koch. I take the same stand regarding this case of bugology that I do regarding all the others—that the germ is a result of the disease, and not its cause.

I do admit, however, that the germ is infectious and that the disease is frequently transmitted in this manner. About the only way in which cholera is infectious is through the stools, these infecting the drinking water. Now, this statement may seem preposterous at first, but it is true.

It will be remembered that the particular sections of the United States which have been visited by this dread disease have all been located in the south. While this may not on first thought seem significant, yet it is substantial evidence in proof of the assertion that the means of infection are through the stools into the drinking water.

In the south, particularly until recently, the sewerage has not been like that of the north. In the north the sewerage is drained off a suitable distance from the cities in subterranean waterways, constructed on different plans, and being, in a very commendable degree, sanitary—in fact, where they are kept in order they are perfectly so. But in the south things were—and are in some instances even yet—decidedly different. The sewerage was all drained off in open ditches, which permitted the excretions from the body, directed through this channel, to penetrate, to a certain degree, the soil, and thus impregnate the water. It is thus seen that infection takes place in this manner.

In coping with this disease, it is necessary to take into consideration the element of fear, which is a very important factor. This brings out some very interesting facts. The entire alimentary system, including the colon, is controlled by the same nerve plexus which governs the emotional nature. This may not seem to be particularly significant to those who have not given the matter considerable thought. I will explain further.

When a person becomes badly frightened it is an established fact that they frequently vomit or evacuate the colon, possibly both. This can be verified by simply watching a horse when he becomes frightened; nine times out of ten the colon is evacuated. Now that I have stated the facts, the next thing will be to give the reason therefor.

I stated above that the same nerve plexus which controlled the action of the alimentary canal also was the seat of emotions. Thus the same nerves which are acted upon to produce fright (an emotion) also govern the alimentary canal.

During fright, the first thing which these nerves do is to prepare for the apprehended attack. As they desire to reserve all their energy for this, they proceed to unburden themselves of the incumbrance placed upon them by the necessity of directing the actions of digestion, assimilation and normal elimination, and at once cause all food that is in the stomach to be ejected by vomiting, and anything which may be in the bowels to be eliminated through the colon. After this is done the nerves are free to direct their entire energy to avoid the calamity which they fear.

The particular thing, then, to be avoided in this disease is fear. For the peristaltic action is being goaded to fearful excess now, and vomiting is also probably occurring. Keep the patient in a quiet, sunny, pleasant place, and do not permit him to entertain any other thought than that he is to be entirely recovered in a few days.

The diet should be very light, and should consist of liquids entirely, which will cause as little exertion in the process of deglutition and digestion as possible. I should prefer scorched milk, possibly with the addition of a slight amount of scorched flour.

The best way to suppress fear is to inspire confidence, and the best way to inspire confidence is to prove your ability. By applying the following simple bit of osteopathy you will at once prove your ability to control peristaltic action, thereby readily inspiring the confidence of your patient, which will eliminate the dangerous factor of fear.

Place the patient on his back, laying him near the edge of the bed, so as to be able to apply the following: Place the hands underneath the body on either side of the spine at about the third to the fifth vertebra (anywhere in the small of the back will do), pressing forcibly, and then, the patient relaxing as much as possible, lift him almost free of the bed, and hold him thus as long as you can, at least one minute. Repeat this five times, if the patient is strong enough to endure it. Apply again in about two and a half hours, or as conditions indicate. The patient will be relieved almost instantly, and his condition will steadily improve.

prove. Or, if the patient can leave his bed, have him sit on a stool. Now take your position behind him, and, placing your right knee in the small of his back, reach over and grasp him firmly by the wrists; press in hard with your knee, at the same time pulling his hands strongly upward and backward over his head, continuing for about one minute. (The patient should be instructed to inflate his lungs to the utmost capacity, and retain the breath during the above treatment.)

Now let him exhale, and breathe more normally for about 30 seconds. Then repeat the treatment as above, the lungs of the patient, being inflated as before. Repeat this five times.

This treatment will be found very effective and the results will be highly satisfactory. To those who give it an honest trial it will prove conclusively the worth of osteopathy, and the validity of the declarations.

TOBACCO.

An editorial in Good Health says: "That since Jean Nicot discovered nicotine, tobacco has had a hard name, but recent chemical investigators tell us the world has been on the wrong track for generations, and that nicotine has nothing to do with the tremors, the nervousness and the other ills which afflict the habitual smoker. The injurious property is, it seems, carbon monoxide gas, which is the very constituent that is dangerous in common water gas. The smoker should know, then, that in consuming one ounce of tobacco he produces one whole pint of carbon monoxide, which is a very fearful thing. The cigarette, the object of excretion by all good men and women, especially women, produces very little of the monoxide, but if the practice of inhaling is followed, the deadly gas goes straight to the blood in the lungs, turns it pink and poisons it. The cigar is the great producer of the obnoxious gas, and would be more harmful than the pipe were it not for the pipe's incurable flitchiness."

"Nicotine, according to some investigators, is not present at all in tobacco, but the scientists are agreed that there is something bad about tobacco, whatever its name may be. While the scientists quarrel about the effects of tobacco, the sales are growing at so rapid a rate all over the world that the people seem to be rushing blindly to their own destruction, unmindful and regardless of their own doom. And the hardened smoker believes that this is a case where ignorance is bliss."

CLUB NOTES.

Minnesota.—Dr. David H. Reeder, LaPorte, Ind.—Dear Doctor: I have read your lectures and advice to the sick with great interest. I have also tried some of your instructions, in a case of influenza. I have a girl 14 years old who had the above named sickness. I followed your course of treatment very carefully, and it turned out excellently, for which I am very thankful. Gratefully, Mrs. S.

Such letters as the above are always very gratifying to me, and I trust that many of the readers of this paper may follow the example of Mrs. S.—and use the simple home remedies of the Home Health Club, thus saving expense, as well as the danger of poisonous drugs.

Janesville.—Dr. David H. Reeder, LaPorte, Ind.—Dear Doctor: I feel prompted to avail myself of the privilege which you give, to ask for information concerning pimples on the face, so annoying to a young person. I know they go away in time, but not always until after years of mental suffering. Can they be gotten rid of, or must they be endured? The case I write of is where the general health is good, seemingly not in need of drugs. Are outward applications of any good? If you will kindly tell me about it, will follow your directions implicitly, and will let you know if I receive any benefit. Hopefully, B. S.

In such cases I usually advise a double course of treatment—both external and internal, because such conditions as you have described are as a rule the result of impure blood, indigestion, etc. However, if, as you say, the general health is good, it may be that the external treatment alone will be effective. I think, however, that you have more or less constipation and your skin is not sufficiently active. Copious enemata should be used until you know that the colon is free from fecal matter. Externally, follow the directions given in my private letter, and also take a cold hand bath every morning, rubbing vigorously in order to increase the activity of the skin of the body. Do not wash the face with soap. I should be glad to have you write me of results, and hope you will in turn become further interested in the club work. Would be glad to have you become an active member, as per the invitation which I sent you.

All readers of this paper are at liberty to write for information on subjects pertaining to health. All communications should be addressed to Dr. David H. Reeder, LaPorte, Ind., and must contain name and address in full and at least four cents in postage.

Hildreth Ready For Turf Fray

Noted Horse Trainer, Reinstated by Jockey Club, Is Now Pointing Smathers Thoroughbreds For Big Stakes—Adbell, His New Purchase.

In these days of thoroughbred racing, when the best horses of the east and west are rivals on the same tracks and the trainers on the western side of the Alleghenies are anxious to show that eastern horses are not always the real thing when it comes to a test of speed and endurance, there is one man that will be watched with interest by the public and also by his brother trainers. That one man is Sam Hildreth, who is one of the best men with a horse that ever handled a string.

Hildreth, for several years under the ban of the Jockey club (which controls racing in the east), was recently granted a license, and from now on will be a prominent figure on metropolitan courses. He will train the horses of E. E. Smathers.

Hildreth's fame is not alone known in and about New York. It extends the length of this big continent. Sam is as familiar with the courses of California as he is with those of the middle west. New Orleans and those of New York. In fact, the name of Hildreth is known wherever there are running horses, and that means a wide section has to be covered.

E. E. Smathers has turned over to him about sixty head of racers, and among them are some pretty shifty animals. These, which include Rapid Water, Burleigh, Irene Lindsey and Wiffl and a couple of dozen of highly bred two-year-olds, will keep Hildreth busy. When Sam gets them right then the race goers will have a chance to see the Smathers colors in front on many occasions.

Hildreth bought Adbell from John E. Madden recently. Adbell ran a good race the same day. He ran a mile and a quarter in 2:06 1/5—faster time than Delhi won the Brooklyn handicap. Adbell carried 120 pounds, and he was not all out at the end. He was ridden by Fountain, a boy who is a very weak rider, the extent of whose skill is an ability to hang on and steer a horse around the track.

Adbell improves with every race he runs. There was some surprise, therefore, when Madden let Adbell go, especially to a man who was once his bitter enemy. It is not so long ago that Madden and Hildreth were rolling on the floor of a Westchester (N. Y.) village restaurant in deadly combat.

Madden, however, is a horse seller. He is a man who believes that a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush. He knows the uncertainties of horse racing through years of bitter experience. He knows Adbell, a good horse today, may be worth much less a short time later. He knew he could get a good price for Adbell, perhaps $15,000, but he also knew that perhaps the uncertainties of racing might make Adbell's value shrink to one-tenth of that sum overnight.

Possibly Madden was wise in disposing of Adbell, but if the horse was one of the big stakes in which he is entered Hildreth will be the galper, not Madden. It is always a puzzling problem for a trainer to decide when to sell and when to hold on to a promising horse.

Madden—Isn't 5 and 30 too old to hope for any improvement? I should say not. One just begins to live. Take Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. You will be blooming fair at 60. 25 cents, tea or tablets. Smith Drug Co.

FASHION NOTES.

One cannot get away from the subject of fashionable waists, whether it be blouse, lingerie or separate bodice; and it is difficult to marshal words to meet the description of Dame Fashion's latest vagaries. The dainty blouse exploiting hand embroidery maintains its head among the designs for dressy wear, and frequently it takes the form of a semi-fitted bodice, especially if its trimming is arranged in draped effect. This idea is exemplified in a chic model in sheerest handkerchief linen in pale blue. The front blouses slightly over a distinctive girde of flowered blue ribbon. A bolero effect is given the blouse by the application of princess lace gallow to the fronts, while the shoulders and heading the vest there are several rows of cord-shirring. The shallow yoke, cut almost square, is also of princess lace gallow, joined by means of fancy stitching with blue silk threads.

With the exquisite summer blouses the girde of plain or flowered ribbon is indispensable. In every instance almost the smart girde is made over a stiffened foundation, and there is no end to the variety of ways in which it may be finished at the back. Some loops and long ends of wide ribbon are sometimes supplied, or it may have embroidered eyelet through which narrow ribbon is laced. In the second instance the ribbon should be used with lavish hand to form a shower effect of loops and end falling halfway down the dress. Of course with such a girde the opening at the back is only a clever deception for the fastening is really effected at the front, the jointure being hidden with a shirred piece of ribbon.

Reverting to the subject of blouses, however, a delightful little model is shown in white linen, which may be copied in a less expensive quality of lawn. The blouse closes in the back, as do so many of the smart models this season, and has a round yoke, trimmed with repousse lace banding. A chic decorative effect is achieved by the use of circular lace medallions attached to the lower edge of the yoke. The slight fullness is shirred into the figure at the waistline and the blouse is finished without a girde.

For rigid simplicity, yet with all the smart respect which a semi-tailored model commands, the shirt-waist of tucked lawn has no peer. The design is laid in broad tucks all over and the softening touch of femininity may be supplied by hemstitching the tucks.

Adherents of the fashions, not "fussy," yet not too plain, and which may be appropriately classified as the conservative makes, refuse to alienate themselves from the tailored shirt waists, so that this modish design has suffered nothing of an eclipse since the appearance of the sheer lingerie blouse upon the stage of fashion. The tailored shirt waist has a place of its own, and for outing and general wear serves a purpose which its more delicate rival cannot hope to attain. In contradistinction to the flirtatious little blouse, the tailored shirt waist is made upon the simplest lines with plain shirt sleeves and wristband. The sleeve is sometimes made with a slight fullness at the bottom, only to be pinched up in tiny tucks or plaits stitched down closely. The waist itself is usually strapped smartly or made with a yoke of original design. All the tub materials, such as damask, printed percale, madras and linen are used for these waists.

WHEN YOU THINK OF A BLOOD PURIFIER THINK OF SSS

The Most Popular and Widely-Known Blood Purifier GUARANTEED PURELY VEGETABLE

This is the season that tests the quality of your blood, and if it is not good, then evidences of it will begin to show as the weather grows warmer. Carbuncles and boils, pimples and blotches, and numerous itching and burning skin eruptions will make their appearance, and are sure indications of bad blood. If spring-time finds you with impure, sickly blood, then you are in poor condition to withstand the strain upon the system which always comes at this time of the year. A failure to look after your physical welfare now, by purifying the blood and toning up the general system, may result in a complete breaking-down of health later on, and you will find yourself weak and run down, with no appetite, and a prey to indigestion and nervousness. It is poor blood that makes weak bodies, for it is this vital fluid that must supply vigor and strength to our systems, and upon its purity rests our chances for health. Any impurity, humor or poison in the blood acts injuriously upon the system and affects the general health. It is to the morbid, unhealthy matter in the blood that chronic sores and ulcers are due. The pustular and scaly skin eruptions so common during spring and summer, show the blood to be in a riotous, feverish condition, as a result of too much acid or the presence of some irritating humor or acrid poison in the blood. A large per cent. of human ailments have their origin in a polluted, diseased blood, and can only be reached by a remedy that goes into the circulation and uproots and expels the poison and restores the blood to a healthy, natural condition. If you have any symptoms of bad blood, and are thinking of a blood purifier, then think of S.S.S., a remedy with a long-established reputation and that has proven itself to be a specific in diseases of the blood, and a superior tonic and system builder. S.S.S. contains no mercury, potash, arsenic or other mineral, but is composed exclusively of vegetable ingredients, selected for their medicinal properties and gathered from nature's store-houses—the fields and forests. The thousands who have used S.S.S. and know from experience what it will do in blood troubles, do not need to be reminded of a blood purifier now, for they know no better can be found than S.S.S. If you are thinking of a blood purifier, think of S.S.S., which has been sold for nearly fifty years, while the demand is greater now than ever in its history. No remedy without merit could exist so long and retain the confidence of the people. Write us if in need of medical advice, which is given without charge.

Springfield, Ohio, May 16, 1903.
On two occasions I have used your S.S.S. in the spring with fine results. I can heartily recommend it as a tonic and blood purifier. I was troubled with headaches, indigestion and liver trouble, which all disappeared under the use of a few bottles of your great blood remedy, S.S.S. My appetite, which was poor, was greatly helped. I can eat anything I want now without fear of indigestion, and my blood has been thoroughly cleansed of impurities and made rich and strong again. As a tonic and blood purifier it is all you claim for it.

68 Years Old, Took "Seven Barks" — Feels Like A Different Man—No Kidney Trouble Now.

The following is a letter we received on June 27, 1904, from Conrad Slagle, of Burrows, Ind.: "It is with great pleasure I let you know what your Seven Barks have done for my back and kidneys and other troubles, and tried many doctors and various medicines, but got no relief. Since I have been taking your Seven Barks I feel like a different man. I am sixty-eight years old and can say that I have never lived anything that has done so much good in so short a time as your Seven Barks."

It's much harder to cure kidney trouble in old age and of long standing than in youth. As a man ages, his bones lose their suppleness—you who suffer with aching back know the effects of weak kidneys—you know, too, the sharp, darting pains that seem as if they would tear you to pieces. This man, like you, was in a bad fix, but Seven Barks got him out of it, and it didn't take long either. Which had you rather do, suffer with kidney trouble or deposit so cents with us for a full-sized bottle of Seven Barks, the money to be refunded if Seven Barks doesn't cure? We don't know of a better remedy, and "finding one" is our business.

Agree to Arbitrate Differences

HOLD CONFERENCE IN CHICAGO

Letter From the Employers Brings Labor Union Chiefs to the Metropolis
for the Purpose of Reaching Peace-
able Solution.

Chicago, June 28.—The present peaceful attitude of the executive boards of the Illinois Coal Operators' association and the United Mine Workers promises to remove all danger of the threatened tieup of mining operations which was expected to follow the passage of the shot-fire law in alleged violation of the miners' agreement.

In response to a formal communication from the operators, the executive board of the miners came to Chicago and met in conference with the board of the operators. An amicable settlement is in sight, and a committee was appointed at the close of the meeting to arrange for a basis of arbitration.

The result of the first day's meeting of the employers was the following letter, which reached the miners at Springfield and caused their executives to hurry to Chicago for a conference:

Willing to Arbitrate.

"H. C. Perry, President the United Mineworkers of Illinois, Springfield, Ill.—Dear Sir: Your communication of June 23 by order of your state executive board, and which consists of the preamble and resolutions adopted by your board at its meeting on the 22d inst., with reference to the shot-fire law, has been carefully considered by our executive committee.

"Every effort has been made by the Illinois Coal Operators' association to settle this controversy in the manner which has heretofore been customary between it and the United Mineworkers of Illinois, as provided by the joint state agreement. In accordance with well established principles of our organization, we are still willing to meet the representatives of your organization for the purpose of drafting such a supplemental agreement as is made necessary by the effect of the shot-fire law upon our present contract. When this law becomes effective the coal operators will obey the law to the letter. The law will abrogate our present contract in the most essential part—i. e., the cost of mining coal—and also will change the relations of the employing operator to his miners and employes in other important respects.

Changes Affect the Scale.

"The effect of these changes, by increasing the cost of coal inequally, also disturbs the competitive relations upon which the present contract has been based, not only between the different districts of the state, but also to the injury of Illinois between it and the other competitive states, parties to the interstate agreement.

"Therefore it becomes necessary to formulate a supplemental agreement to cover the changed conditions during the remaining period of the present contract, expiring March 31, 1906. If a meeting between properly authorized representatives of our respective organizations is unable to agree upon all of the details of such a supplemental contract, and it is agreed to submit any of the details involved to arbitration, we will insist that such arbitrating body be fully constituted before such matter is submitted; and if the miners are to remain at work from July 1 until such decision is reached we will also insist that the mine workers live up to the present contract, and reimburse the operators for the expense incurred, directly or indirectly, by the application of the shot-fire law, subject, however, to the provision of such supplementary contract, or the decision of such board of arbitration, which will be made effective from July 1 next.

"The Illinois Coal Operators' Association, O. L. Garrison, president.

Conference Is Peaceable.

The conference, in which John Mitchell, national president; W. D. Ryan, secretary, and H. C. Parry, president of the state organization, handled the negotiations for the mine workers, ended peaceably. Both sides apparently were anxious to avert any closing of operations and were willing to submit to a board of arbitration, to be chosen later, the points upon which they could not agree during the meeting. The personnel of the committee appointed to arrange for a basis of arbitration has not been revealed, but it is thought that they may be recommended that Gov. Deneen act as mediator, although the original proposal of the miners was for a board of five, two chosen by each side and the fifth member by the original four.

Independents Abide by Law.

Springfield, Ill., June 28.—Even should the Illinois Operators' association refuse to accept the offer of the United Mine Workers of America to arbitrate the question whether the shot-fire law abrogates the joint agreement between the operators' association and miners, the independent operators of the state will continue to operate their mines. The operators' association controls about 90 per cent of the shipping mines in the state.

Big Banquet in London Tonight for

London, June 28.—Sir Casper Purdon Clark, the new director of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York, will be given a farewell dinner by English connoisseurs of art tonight. He will shortly sail for America. Sir Purdon has obtained for the museum duplicate casts of two terra cotta roundels, five feet in diameter, representing busts of the Roman Emperor Vitellius and of Julius Caesar. These medallions were presented by Pope Leo X to Cardinal Wolsey for the ornamentation of the walls of Hamilton Court, and were later presented by the Cardinal to Henry VIII. Sir Casper says that these roundels represent the best terra cotta work of the sixteenth century.

POPULATION OF RUSSIA.

Facts of Considerable Interest Are Brought to View by the Last Census.

Russia has a population of 125,640,021 according to its last census, some details of which have been reported to the state department by United States Consul Smith, at Moscow. The Russians comprise two-thirds of the population of the empire, but are in the minority in some of the outlying sections. In the Caucasus there are only 34 per cent. of Russians; among the tribes of Armenians, Tartars, Georgians, Imereians and Mingrels there are 50 per cent.; in central Asia only 8.9 per cent., and the smallest number is found in the governments on the Vistula (Poland), 6.7 per cent.

The population of Russia is made up of classes in about the following proportions: Peasants, 99,916,644; Burghers, 13,586,392; hereditary noblemen, 1,220,169; personal noblemen and officials, 630,119; ecclesiastics, 588,497; hereditary and personal honorary citizens, 344,927; merchants, 281,179, and foreigners, 605,500.

Of the Russians, 30.6 per cent. of the males and 9.3 per cent. of the females can read and write. The number of adherents to the principal religious denominations is as follows: Orthodox, 87,123,604; Old Faith and Dissenters, 2,204,596; Roman Catholics, 11,506,809; Protestants, 3,702,756; Armenian Gregorians, 1,179,266, and Mohammedans, 13,996,972.

JUDGING BY APPEARANCES.

Not in Every Instance a Sure Index

A student once asked the French alienist Esquirol if there were any sure tests by which to tell the sane from the insane. "Please dine with me tomorrow at six o'clock," was the answer of the saint. The student accepted the invitation, relates the Chicago Daily News, and found two other guests present, one of whom was elegantly dressed and apparently highly educated, while the other was rather uncouth, noisy and extremely conceited.

After dinner the pupil rose to take leave. As he shook hands with his teacher the latter remarked: "One of the two gentlemen you have just met is insane. Can you tell me which?" "The problem is very simple," was the student's reply. "The quiet, well-dressed gentleman is certainly distinguished in some lines, but the other is certainly a lunatic and ought at once to be locked up."

"You are wrong, my dear friend," replied Esquirol. "That quiet, well-dressed man who talks so rationally has for years labored under the delusion that he is God the Father, whereas the other man, whose exuberance and self-conceit have surprised you, is Honore de Balzac."

World's Longest Tunnel.

The Simplon is the longest tunnel in the world, and has been finished in the face of tremendous difficulties, most of which were entirely unexpected, and many of which presented new problems for engineers. It extends from Brieg in Switzerland to Iselle in Italy, the total length being a little over 12 1/2 miles—21,576 yards in fact. In comparison with other great tunnels, the following table will be interesting:

KOURPATKIN IS A PRISONER

Report That Former Chief Has Been Killed or Captured, While 70,000
Men Are Said to Have Been Cut Off by Gen. Nogi.

St. Petersburg, June 28.—Sinister rumors of disaster to the Russian army have drawn attention from the insurrection in Russian Poland.

Most persistent of the rumors is one that Gen. Kourpatkin has been either killed or taken prisoner, and that 70,000 Russians have been cut off by Gen. Nogi's army after fierce fighting.

These rumors, which have been spread broadcast over the city, are not confirmed either by the general staff or the press dispatches.

The only official news received from the front was contained in a brief dispatch received from Lieut. Gen. Linevitch confirming the reports that the Japanese armies are advancing, steadily driving the Russians before them.

Advance Posts Fall Back.

Linevitch reports that the Russian advance posts are retreating under pressure, fighting continuously.

The military experts take anything but a hopeful view of Gen. Linevitch's situation. They do not believe he can be surrounded, but apparently the experts do not consider the possibility of a Russian victory. Linevitch's retreat to Harbin and the isolation of Vladivostok seem to be regarded as foregone conclusions when Field Marshal Oyama strikes.

According to late news from the front, Oyama after forcing back the Russian right and center, transferred his weight against the left, compelling the Russians to give ground there also. The military critics, however, agree that the frontal movement is merely a feint for the envelopment of one or both of the Russian wings, without which nothing in the shape of a decisive victory is possible.

Oyama Moves With Care.

The impression is that Oyama, profiting by past experience, is more carefully preparing his turning operations; but by the same token the Russian staff declares Linevitch has taken ample precautions to keep in touch with flanking movements and that it is not possible to take him by surprise.

Occasional heavy downpours of rain continue at the front.

Gen. Linevitch, in a dispatch to the emperor dated 26, reports outpost affairs on June 24, the Russians being driven in both south of the railway and in the valley of the Tsinne. In the region of Hallungchen the Japanese resumed the offensive June 22 and attacked and drove back the Russian advance squadrons.

CONGRESSMAN IN A FIST FIGHT

Engages in Personal Altercation With Clerk in a Laundry.

Nashville, Tenn., June 28.—Congressman John Wesley Gaines of this city and E. W. Thompson, clerk in the laundry office of a local steam laundry, engaged in a personal altercation, as a result of which both were placed under arrest by Chief of Police Curran, who happened to be present. The trouble occurred in the laundry office over a package belonging to Mr. Gaines and had not progressed far when Chief Curran interfered. A slight abrasion on the congressman's left jaw is the only evidence of the few blows exchanged.

BEATEN AT HIS OWN GAME

Gambler Who Bet on Sure Things
Only Meets with a Cinch
That Fails.

"There was a sure-thing gambler down in Mississippi named Gamble—good name, by the way," said John Sharp Williams, according to the Reheoboth Sunday Herald. "He never made a bet unless he was sure, he would win. He was out at a country fair, staying at a hotel. One morning a man who was in the sporting line himself got up early and looked out of the window. He saw Gamble carefully measuring with a tape line the hitching post in front of the hotel. He knew something was up, and when Gamble went out to the fair he went out and measured the hitching post himself. Then he took a sledge hammer and drove the post into the ground an inch and a half.

"That night, after supper, while they were all sitting on the hotel porch Gamble craftily led the conversation around to the difficulty of judging distances and heights.

"Now," he said, "there's that hitching post out yonder. I'll bet a hundred I can come nearer its height than anybody here."

"How high would you reckon it is?" said the sledge-hammer artist, who, after a lot of conversation, had put up the hundred with Gamble.

"Oh," said Gamble, "I'll take it at 30 inches."

"Oh, no," replied the other man, "you are wrong. I'll bet it is less than 29."

"They measured, and it was 28 1/2. Gamble hasn't smiled since that day."

Statistics published in Spain state that during 1904 nearly 12,000 bulls were killed in bull fights. The bulls killed about 10,000 horses. AIRSHIP IN SUCCESSFUL FLIGHT

Aeronaut Who Sailed Arrow Soars
Over Toledo for Forty-five Minutes.

Toledo, Ohio, June 28.—A Roy Knabenshue, aeronaut, who so successfully sailed the Arrow, Capt. Baldwin's airship, at the St. Louis exposition last September, made a trip in his new airship, Toledo No. 1, which Mr. Knabenshue has just completed. Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock he started on a trip over the city and he sailed his new airship for forty-five minutes, going with and against the wind. The trip was a very successful one. The new ship is built very much after the plan of the Arrow, although it is narrower at the ends and therefore there is less resistance. He has placed in the ship a hot-air engine, which Knabenshue says will give him twice the speed that the engine used on the Arrow will give.

WIDOW AND HIRED MAN TAKEN INTO CUSTODY.

Funeral Is Stopped in Church While Coroner Takes Charge of Body
to Discover Murder Evidence.

Des Moines, Iowa, June 28.—At the bier of her husband, where she was paying her last tribute, Mrs. Cyrus Pratt of Yetter was arrested on the charge of murder. At the same time Will Kersing, the hired man at the Pratt farm, was also taken into custody as being an accomplice.

The little Cottonwood church was filled with relatives and friends of the deceased when the officers arrived. They were in the midst of the services.

There was no waiting for ceremony, but, walking directly to Kersing and Mrs. Pratt, the officers made their arrests. The body was immediately taken in charge by the coroner and an autopsy held. The stomach was removed and sent to the state chemist in this city for examination to discover if there were any traces of poison. Pratt died after a brief illness and the officers declare there is suspicion of poisoning.

There has been considerable talk lately of the attentions paid Mrs. Pratt by Kersing. He is an attractive young man and she a prepossessing woman. She was married to Pratt in Dickinson county fifteen years ago. He was a well-to-do farmer. Authorities are working upon the theory that Mrs. Pratt and Kersing fell in love and took a desperate method of getting the husband out of the way. Authorities ascertained that Mrs. Pratt has twice recently purchased poison at the Yetter drug store, signing the poison register both times.

Mrs. Pratt and Kersing are now both in jail at Lake City awaiting a preliminary hearing, which will not be held until the chemist is ready to report upon the contents of the stomach. The two have been separated so they cannot converse with each other. Mrs. Pratt when arrested broke down and wept bitterly, proclaiming her innocence. Kersing has worked at the Pratt farm for some time and his intimacy with Mrs. Pratt has been a matter of general comment.

WATERBURY'S BEST STANDARD BINDING TWINE

we are prepared to sell it at

10½c per Pound

We guarantee it to be the best grade of twine on the market, and also to be right in weight and number of feet. This is the second season we have sold this twine.

Previous to last season we had handled other brands, but found that the WATERBURY gave the best satisfaction. We can refer you to over two hundred of Rock County's best farmers who used the WATERBURY Twine last season, and who have placed their orders with us for the same twine this year.

Place your orders at once or your twine may cost you considerably more, for the grain crop in the United States will be one of the best in its history. This will naturally bear on the twine market.
